Color Swatches

Please print this sheet using a color printer. Looking at these colors on your computer will not show you an accurate representation of the real color.

We realize that color prints may end up with some variation from printer to printer. However, these differences will be minor and not affect how your project will come out.

You may notice that some of these colors are very similar such as “cavern light” and “sand” or “earth tone dark” and “dirt”. In these cases you could probably just choose one of the colors to do both types of painting.

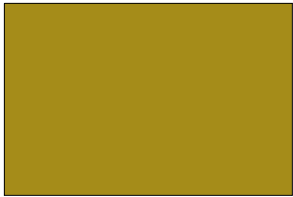

If comparing these colors to paint still in the bottle, be sure to choose colors a shade lighter than the swatches you see here. Paint has a tendency to turn darker when it dries.
